

Presidents Of The USA: All Usurpation

M. R. Pinheiro

Abstract:

In this paper, we defend the thesis that all presidents of the USA have had their existences usurped, like since the very first one. We then prove usurpation for a few of them (4), due to the necessity of speeding up the communication of the finding. We show, once more, how we can prove usurpation for any randomly chosen ID in human kind. We once more talk about how to protect yourself against usurpation and provide a theory as to where this is coming from and what sort of philosophy is involved in the atrocity.

I. Introduction

In Usurpation: A New Type of Crime for Criminology, we described, for the first time in human history, as for all we had access to, this type of crime, where one person murders (or agrees with having someone else doing that) another for the purposes of becoming the other in whatever means power or influence or charisma or luxury or comfort or services or structure and changing the direction of the spiritual/rhetorical impact of the work or actions of the other on earth to something satanic, so say we have L. Ron Hubbard (just because we briefly studied his case in the other paper), the father of Scientology, who would have written books to help entertain people but at least sometimes teach things of value, and he is respected in society since he is saving lots of young people from the atrocities of psychiatry (during his life on earth, psychiatry was much more heinous than it is today, and today it is still pretty bad: back then, people were called insane if they, for instance, disagreed from the government and they then would be subjected to shocks of even highest voltages, which are proven in science to destroy the brain and not heal any mental illness, not even partially, at most changing the person into a thing, like someone without life in themselves (Brazilian research, result from circa 1980), or solitary confinement (which can only aggravate mental illness even though I cannot quote a researcher who would have proven that), or wearing straitjackets (which can easily cause physical impairment), or taking medication that impairs the brain processes (still nowadays everywhere, even thought that is just a feeling, based on my observation, that is the only medication in psychiatry: that impairs brain processes), among others. Hubbard was then a hero: even though his philosophy could include the e-meter already back then (I have the impression that the e-meter was invented by the usurper as well), which means shock, at least those would be of low voltage and unlikely to harm the brain by much (even though I did experience brain damage while subjected to that in Sydney between 2005 and 2020, like any amount, any load of it, seems to have impaired my memory per se, like more than the levels of impairment I already experienced because of Al Qaeda. The American congress did examine the e-meter at a certain height, however, without God's Brainwashing, nothing can be ethical and therefore all results are likely to be incorrect, like the congress could even have usurpers that wanted to do good on that particular occasion, regarding that particular topic, but then they have to rely on experts in psychology and psychiatry and others and those would then be too satanized to collaborate. One of the mottos of satanism is inflicting pain, suffering, loss and injury to human kind in all we do, so that the e-meter, which was probably created by the usurper, not the original Hubbard, is good because it creates injury and, more importantly, it creates injury in one of their most targeted places of the human body, which is the brain).

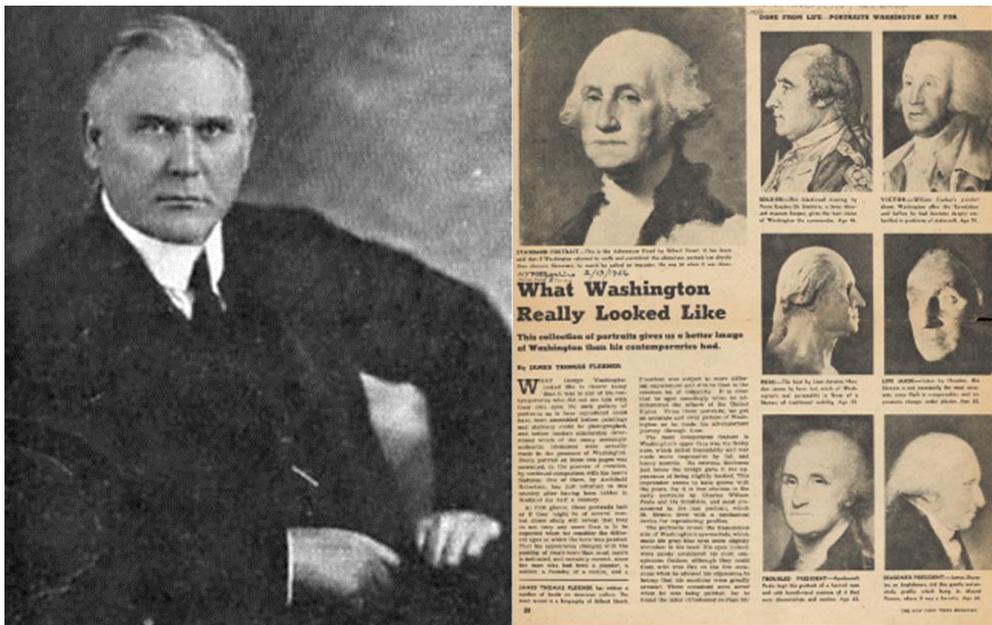

The marginal ('Braganca') told us that Al Qaeda started usurping the American presidents by the time they got to know that the American president had made an agreement with the ETs through which he allowed a fraction of human kind to be abducted every year. That made sense to us, since we watched on TV the details about this agreement (Brazilian TV, by the time the marginal tells us that, so before 1990 and after 1972), so that the agreement is true, really happened, and it was even on TV, even though Al Qaeda runs the misinformation campaign on us, part of the satanic system, and they then completely erased any reference to such agreement from the media since then.

In this paper, we prove that, even though this particular generation of The Marginal may even have started commanding usurpation of the American presidents back then, so by the time of Eisenhower or between 1953-1961, their main group of pertinence, which is the satanic, devil adorers, so adorers of some creature created by the devil, in this case Baal, started usurpation of the American presidents by the time of George Washington, so between 1789 and 1797, and this basically means the USA never really experienced true democracy and it is likely that happened to all democratic countries so far, even though we will need a team of researchers and governmental employees to prove all that in a solid way.

Development

The start of democracy in the USA is marked by the election of George Washington [1]. Here we prove, by pictures, that his existence was usurped, even though we cannot determine how many times or the actual identity of the usurpers or the exact date of beginning or end of the usurpation by a certain usurper or even the date of the homicide of the original person, that being a constant throughout the paper.

[5]

To understand the necessity of God’s Brainwashing for us to start having something for real, so even basic services, such as health and police, notice, through the quote below, that even the most superficial of the things, just being able to locate actual pictures of someone, is something heavily satanized:

“Since there were no photographs in George Washington’s day, we cannot know exactly what he looked like. He had “a large and straight nose,” wrote someone who knew him in 1760. “His face is long rather than broad, with high round cheekbones. His mouth is large and generally firmly closed.” Do you think the artist has successfully captured those details in this picture?” [4]

We got at least one true picture of him, as we see above, source [2], so that the above paragraph is part of the misinformation campaign of Al Qaeda/The Satanic/Baal Adorers, which obviously means those who wrote this are satanic (once more, it doesn’t mean they do that by choice, even though they would be usurpers, like they would have been brainwashed to do the things they do most of the time or all the time), and wouldn't you believe what is written by the American Minneapolis Institute of Art, like, for most of us, it suffices being American for us to believe it.

We observe that the nose of 'George' is different in each one of the images of 'George' appearing above, so that we actually have 9 different men being depicted there instead of one. Even if we find out the information from [2] is the one that is satanized, so say men, back then, couldn't possibly be wearing what 'George' is wearing in that 'picture', we still have 8 different men in the other images.

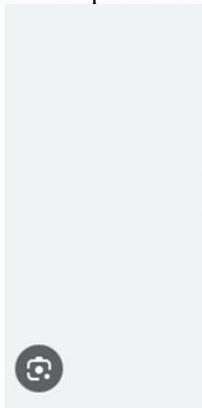

Please notice that the marginal could easily tell us that the painters were all incompetent and the 'true' image of George is the one they say is the true image, so say [5], since the following quote came from this source: "It is the first accurate printed likeness of Washington". Yet, we can argue that they already had mirrors back then and a president would not let any painting that were not accurate be preserved, like the inaccurate ones would be destroyed.

I used to think it was odd that artists were so incompetent in ancient times, since statues also disagree enormously on how a person looked, but, since I 'found' usurpation, I understand that artists are the same thing we see nowadays, so only rarely failing to deliver and, even so, by minor things, never a nose or a chin. By studying phenomena after we start God's Brainwashing, we will be able to determine what happened in the past, but I doubt very much even an individual would let inaccurate portraits be around. I think most people would ask the artist to fix the portrait immediately and would only stop asking them to do that when they thought the image were accurate, never really ordering the destruction of it but, if that were ever possible, then we should have heard something about the artist's incompetence, I reckon.

Given the amount of usurpations our George Washington seems to have endured, I theorize that he was usurped soon after the election results were advertised, as they also do these days, having however, in a few cases, simply manipulated the own election, such as when 'Obama' or 'Trump' won, since those were bosses of major terrorist groups, allies of Al Qaeda, and they couldn't afford losing the election at all.

The second American president we most worry about is Dwight D. Eisenhower, since that is the one the marginal signals marks the start of the usurpation of American presidents' lives for Al Qaeda, Al Qaeda then being a group started by 'Osama bin Laden', who figured as 'Candido Vieira', from UFF, in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, by 1973, that lasting until the death of the ID, with me being unable to determine if that has already happened or not. His image, so for that particular version of 'Candido' and 'Osama', appeared on Rede Globo TV, in Brazil, at a certain stage (Fantastico), with staff then asserting that that was the leader of Al Qaeda (he is extremely short, something way less than 1.75, which is my height, has dark eyes, is slim, black skin, dark hair, nice nose (so not broken in places or big, like the usual African, in fact delicate in design, even though not small as mine. The nostrils are harmonious and not wide as the usual African's), no cheeks, head that matches the body in proportions, nice chin, so not big, as the chin of 'Jim Carrey', and not too small, as the chin of 'Barry Trump' (I saw more than one version of this one on YouTubes, but both had a chin that was small). His image would have appeared between the years of 1974 and 1990 accompanied by that of another male of similar stature. It was outdoors and there were no houses around them plus I think they were over rocks. There is a chance that the group that bugged 'Osama', when he left jail in Saudi Arabia through usurpation, was already called Al Qaeda, when he then probably beheaded the group and assumed leadership.

Here we have the pictures of Eisenhower, just three because they are actual pictures, like, for sure:

We can then notice that the four pictures above show the images of 4 very different men (pick by the nose and chin) and none of them is likely to be that of the original Eisenhower (since the two first ones, from when 'he' was little, seem to represent the image of a person of Indian descent, like the traces of their faces are more compatible with India. That leads us to think that the group that gives 'Osama' his first usurpation already had a branch in India and did the same, or very similar, things to theirs, so that 'Osama' may have created his own thing, then calling the group Al Qaeda, or he simply beheaded the group also in India and then used their name, which is actually more compatible with the information they have provided, since 'Braganca' doesn't seem to know why of the name Al Qaeda (he gives me two origins and none of them is correct, as I said in another paper) and, even though he accumulates all those books in his apartment by 1985, some of them rarest thing, that could be just pretending because I am around, like he could have done the same research I did recently and he would then have found out it was the foundation/base but he didn't).

We observe that the website showing the siblings of Eisenhower [6] exhibits images of very different people: mother, father and siblings all look very different. That means that the original family had been entirely replaced already at an early stage, so that Al Qaeda (since my strongest theory now is that the group already existed in Saudi Arabia and India under this name before 'Osama' beheaded it and took over, which is the same thing that they did to Malcolm-X's group in the USA, that I know they did from being told, 'Nelson' told me) was already attacking America heavily by the time 'Osama' takes over.

Please notice that each time one gets replaced, all do, as for small families (small here means father, mother and siblings), so that this particular family has suffered as many usurpations as one can count happened to Eisenhower.

Notice that, if that is all true, and that is indeed my best belief, they were already able to insert eloquence in the target language via head bug by then. As said before, the most likely origin of this first bug of Al Qaeda in my head is Germany, the research involving rabbis in dogs, then in ex-black-African slaves, this happening by 1888 or end of black-African slavery in Germany.

It is also worth mentioning another satanic rule, so from what we now believe to be Baal's bible, which is that of making scrambles each time a couple of usurpers procreates (they go to the hospitals or where the deliveries are happening and swap babies, so immediately after birth: as explained before, the reason alleged by 'Braganca' would be that, in this way, when people who want to attack the kids of the marginal, which is very common, they won't attack their own kids, but others, so that the marginal doesn't care about those and therefore won't be forced to do things he doesn't want to do. People did notice that, that the kids, at a certain stage, were not looking like the parents anymore, but Al Qaeda then changed the rhetoric and sources involving the topic, like they usurped in Biology and changed all that was published in genetics in those regards and also satanized the searches, so that researchers can only find the sources they think are OK when searching for those specific terms).

John F. Kennedy would have presided over America from 1961 to 1963 [8]. His term was cut short because he got assassinated on the 22nd of November of 1963 [9]. It is interesting because this proves that the marginal also kills his own people with frequency, so the usurpers that acquired their ID and other goods (like the eloquence in the target language), on top of a head bug, through them. The assassination would have been plotted by the marginal to last detail, so that the person killing JFK would have been bugged and subjected to a Manchurian, in my best guess.

Pick by the nose and chin. They are four very different men. Notice here the defamation campaign of the marginal, which consists in satanizing or demonizing people's biographies, so changing the spiritual impact of the human history of an individual so that they go from God's person, therefore exemplary in conduct, moral and compliant, to devil's person, therefore a person who doesn't respect institutions, people, marriages and others. The second picture is a scream in those regards. The text under it is "John F. Kennedy commanding the U.S. Navy torpedo boat PT-109, 1943." [9] They then imply that a native American officer could appear in a picture with the upper part of his body naked and relaxed position when he should be on duty ('commanding' a 'navy' 'torpedo boat').

[10]

The picture from source [11] was from when 'he' was 6 months of age, according to [11]. Since these two pictures show extremely different babies, we know 'he' was replaced at this early stage of life, yet, because of the absence of these details in the sources, we cannot determine not even what individual came first on the line of usurpations, if the baby from [10] or the baby from [11]. Notice that, for instance, the face of the one to the right is round and vertically squeezed but the face of the one to the left is elongated. The cheeks are also another big give-away. Observe that none of these babies has anything in common with the other pictures, above these ones, of the other 4 versions of Kennedy. There seems to be a good number of usurpations, well superior to those we presented here, for all cases above. We believe none of the above babies is the original Kennedy, so that he must have been swapped by birth, which then makes us think that 'his' parents were usurpers, already living inside of the satanic rules, therefore doing scrambles. In this case, it is likely that the original couple had no kids by the time they got usurped.

In conclusion, when people ask, why did Our God let 'Kennedy' die in such a tragic way, the answer is that it is because who was there was full of sin and wasn't his beloved son.

'Donald Trump' enjoyed 'his' first mandate from 2017 to 2021 and is now enjoying his second mandate since 2025 [8], January.

I believe 'Fred Trump', 'Trump's' father [12], is the one who got killed by 'Braganca' after we circled the man by car somewhere in Brazil, which I believe was Sao Paulo. In this case, 'his' father looked a heavens lot different from the one we usually see portrayed in the press as 'his' father (and that is also different from the one we see in [12], indicating that the entire small family of 'Trump' gets replaced frequently, making sense with me seeing two versions of the same 'Barry Trump' on YouTube recently (one was blonde and had a face that looked literally like a V, so with very small chin and still a chin that formed an almost pointy angle on the vertex of the V, and the other is brunette, much taller than the previous one, and has, instead of a literal V, some squarish feel to the chin). If I am right in my guesses, the original father of Donald Trump was pretty tall, squarish in the shoulders and all along his body, large (the shoulders had more or less the same width as the hips and the torso), taller than the 'Trump' we see these days, even though he has multiples and I am referring to the one I more frequently saw as him in the press, super white, so Caucasian, with a face that is very similar to 'Trump' but more squarish and longer. It is a scoff, once more, putting this man who appears as 'Fred Trump' to represent 'Trump's' father, really: this man is pretty much horrendous compared to that one plus has nothing in common not even with the usurper of Trump. That is obviously part of the defamation campaign of Al Qaeda: that Christian families, therefore our original native American white families, could have kids that in nothing look like them and people who look like that man figuring as 'Fred'.

Now let's study some of 'Donald Trump's' facial changes:

The just-presented faces came [13] and clearly represent 2 different men: the nose, the eyebrows and the distance between the lips and the line of the smile, for instance, will make you see how different these two men are.

We here have 3 other men, so that we have presented 5 versions of the same 'Trump' here: points to pay more attention to are nose, chin and eyebrows, when making these comparisons. I believe none of these pictures represents the original Donald Trump, since, first of all, he should be similar to his father when little and as growing up. If JFK got replaced when he was less than one year old, we would expect the same to have happened to Trump, yet 'Braganca' told me things as if the usurpation of who I believe was the father, 'Fred', were the first one of this family for 'Osama's' Al Qaeda, so that I imagine that the Saudi Arabian Al Qaeda was already 'working' on this ID before 'Osama's' Al Qaeda took over. The 'original' 'Fred', who I more or less saw being killed by 'Braganca' back then, looked a bit too big and fat to be an original from the USA, like his body was not in shape, even though it was not as bad as the current 'Trump's', like he did not have that belly that forms a looks similar to that of a pregnant woman in men, like the one the current 'Trump' has got, but he had fat as well, it is just that it was flat fat, without the bump. I may be wrong, but I have the impression the original people of America were like me and loved exercising their bodies as well, as Christians should, since it is the house of our soul and gluttony is a bad sin.

To do good research work on this topic, of the satanic crimes of Al Qaeda against America, or against any other people's type, we would have to have many pictures and dates accompanying those or count on seizing their database and making their information become 'white', that is, making it become an integral part of the official governmental data set.

Please observe here, once more, that 'Trump', who should be the top boss of a group I have named Russian League, also exists in multiples, so that it would be relevant studying pictures also in terms of concomitancy with the presidential term.

The Russian League and Hezbollah (the group commanded by the Amazon 'Obama') would have become allies of Al Qaeda at a certain stage, 'Obama's' group joining Al Qaeda by the time I meet the Amazon 'Obama' together with the Brazilian 'Osama' and 'Braganca', 'my' 'father', that being before 1985 and after 1972 (sorry, they made a mess of my memories and they exterminated my timeline when I was little already, this is the best I can do).

Both bosses, so of the Russian League and Hezbollah, would have gotten their usurpations through Al Qaeda, which means they are both bugged in the head and basically controlled by the Brazilian 'Osama' and Leinha (who controls the head of 'Osama', in principle, as explained before).

II. Conclusions

In this paper, we have produced meaningful evidence on all the presidents of America, since democracy started there, having been usurped, so basically on there being no democracy at all in America so far: people clearly don't know who they are voting for and even if they do those may get and probably did get usurped after elections.

It is our belief that the congressmen also get usurped by Al Qaeda, this not only in America, so that there is absolutely nothing to say we live in democracy in at least Brazil, Australia, United States and England.

We have provided a research method that can be used when investigating this sort of social phenomenon but it might be impossible for us to produce a database that is comprehensive enough for us to be able to isolate dates of usurpation, correct name of the usurper, how many times the ID got usurped and tell if it had multiples or not, so that it would be really good if we could seize the databases from Al Qaeda just for starters.

We also talked about the 'defamation campaign' of Al Qaeda, which is used to satanize people's biographies, to create a narrative that opposes the natural one in spiritual terms for a race or a people or a particular segment of a particular people, such as white American Christians.

We determined that Al Qaeda was probably started by other people, not by the Brazilian 'Osama', as previously thought: it was started by at most the black Saudi Arabians, of black-African ancestry who provided 'Osama' with his first usurpation. We also concluded that the Brazilian 'Osama', top leader of Al Qaeda, probably beheaded the group in both Saudi Arabia and India in order to take over and he then kept on using the same name, which has a very special meaning in Arabic, which is foundation or base. We know that they beheaded Malcolm-X's group for sure, so the one in the USA, New York.

We produced reasonable evidence on the father of Donald Trump having been usurped between 1972 and 1985. We also came up with the theory that that was not the original father of the original Donald Trump, so that his entire small family must have gotten usurped a few times.
